4 Articles To Give Library Tax Facts—Starting Tomorrow

Should you vote for a library tax or should you vote against it?

If you live in Langhorne or Tullytown Boroughs or Falls, Middletown or Bristol Townships, you will find a referendum on the ballot Nov. 8 which, if adopted, will provide a special tax for libraries in those municipalities.

What are the facts behind this referendum?

The Courier-Times has made a lengthy investigation of the situation, and will present all of those facts, both pro and con, in a four-part series of articles beginning tomorrow.

If you want to be well informed on this complex and controversial question, don't miss this series.

Craft Loses Wings

A Treves couple cheated death Saturday night when their four-passenger, single engine Piper plane crashed near Milton, Mass. while they were enroute from Philadelphia to Boston to visit relatives.

The couple, David Bohman, 29, and his wife Gloria, 25, of 410 Bruce Road, bruised and shaken, remained near their plane in the woods throughout the night and at daybreak made their way to a nearby farmhouse on the Samuel H. Wolcott Jr. estate about six miles from the airport.

Bohman, an executive of Donna Fashions, a women's sweater manufacturing company, immediately telephoned a relative while the farmer, Norman Mollin made coffee for the couple.

Lost in Fog

Bohman said he became lost in the heavy fog just after he had received instruction from Logan Airport in Boston to drop his altitude from 2,500 to 1,800 feet and to prepare to make an instrument landing.

Bohman said the ceiling was at zero when he brushed the tree tops. Both wings were sheared off as the plane descended in the woods.

Bohman said the crash occurred about 9 p.m. and that he and his wife built a fire and listened to the crackling of the plane radio throughout the night.

He said they could hear the airport report their plane missing but could not contact them because of the fog.

Wants Moratorium On Rash Statements

WITH NIXON IN CONNECTICUT (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon, rejecting Sen. John

F. Kennedy's proposal to drop campaign discussion of the Quemoy-Matsu issue, demanded instead today a "moratorium on rash, immature statements that are going to encourage the Communists to attack us any place in the world."

"What we need is for him (Kennedy) to start thinking before he talks, and it will be a lot better for the country if he does," the GOP presidential candidate told a cheering crowd of some 3,500 at Hartford, Conn.

Nixon noted that Kennedy said Sunday that he supported President Eisenhower's stand on Quemoy and Matsu.

"Well, it is about time," the vice president said.

Nixon brought up the issue in his speech at the Bushnell Memorial Auditorium in Hartford. He said that Kennedy "failed to see the whole point" of the Quemoy-Matsu matter when the senator maintained the two islands were indefensible.

"He failed to see that the Communist objective is not the two islands, but the world," Nixon said. "The way to extend freedom is not to start running backwards and the American people are not going to do that."

Nixon got an enthusiastic reception from the crowd which filled the auditorium and perhaps twice as many who stood outside and heard the speech on loudspeakers.

The Hartford address was the first in a half day of campaigning for Connecticut's eight electoral votes. Nixon motorcaded from

Ike To Talk In Detroit

DETROIT (UPI)—President Eisenhower arrived here today to deliver an address on the nation's economic outlook at the outset of a nine-day "non-political" speaking tour.

The President's jet landed at 11 a.m. ed. at Detroit Metropolitan Airport after a one hour and 10 minute flight from Washington.

He was met by L. L. (Tex.) Colbert, president of Chrysler Corp. and head of the Automobile Manufacturers Association.

The Chief Executive drove directly to his hotel. His schedule called for him to receive a key to the city and speak before a women's group before his major address tonight at the 43rd National Auto Show.

LCA To Host 'Great Debate' Tomorrow

Leaders of the county Republican and Democratic independent groups and state assembly candidates will hold their own "Great Debate" during tomorrow night's Levittown Civic Association meeting.

Mrs. Ann Hawkes Hutton, noted author of historical books and the Dick Nixon Club of Lower Bucks County representative, and James A. Michener, Pulitzer Prize winning author and Bucks County Citizens for Kennedy chairman, will present their interpretation of national campaign issues and extol the varied virtues of their respective presidential candidates.

State assembly candidates invited to attend the meeting at 8:15 p.m. in the Levittown Community Hall, include: — First District: Alan D. Williams and Mrs. Margaret Kooker, incumbent Republicans; William H. Rute and Jack Sirott, Democrats. Second District: James J. A. Gallagher, incumbent Democrat and Jack Thomas, Republican.

Questions From Floor

Mrs. Hutton and Michener will answer questions from the floor, following their presentation, a spokesman said. The assembly candidates will then be available for questioning on their views, the spokesman said.

LCA members will also be

20,000 Turn Out

Kennedy Cheered In Levittown, N.J.

LEVITTOWN, N. J.—A crushing, spirited crowd of 20,000 persons turned out here yesterday to hear Sen. John F. Kennedy deliver a 15-minute campaign speech in the Levittown Shopping Plaza.

The visit, arranged by Burlington County's Citizens for Kennedy, marked the third time the Democratic presidential candidate has appeared in New Jersey.

Deafening Cheers

The Massachusetts senator arrived by plane at McGuire Air Force Base and drove here in a 21-car motorcade. After his brief appearance in the plaza, Kennedy returned to McGuire where he boarded his twin-engine Convair, "Carolyn," for an airport speech at New Castle, Del.

Ninety minutes late for his scheduled 12:30 arrival in Levittown, Sen. Kennedy was greeted by long, deafening cheers when he stepped up on the speaker's platform at 2 p.m.

His speech, delivered without referring to notes, was a capsule review of campaign speeches he had given in previous tours. The only new addition was his challenge to Republican presidential hopeful Richard M. Nixon to turn his attention to issues other than the Chinese offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

Boyer Levels More Charges At Bodley

County Commissioner Edward B. Boyer, who has been asked to take a leave of absence from his post while he is facing charges of extortion and bribery, declared today that he could not do so legally without facing the possibility of being removed from office by the courts.

Boyer, in a three-page mimeographed statement which he read at the conclusion of a commissioners' meeting in Doylestown, also leveled new charges at Commissioner John Justus Bodley, who was instrumental in instigating the investigation that resulted in the charges against Boyer and Charles B. Meyers, a suspended U. S. deputy marshal.

Both Republicans

Both Boyer and Bodley are Republicans. Boyer said today in his statement that Bodley knew such a request for a leave of absence would result in his (Boyer) being removed.

He also said that Bodley knows of the "indiscretions" of a county employee who has allegedly been "misusing public funds to his own enrichment."

This employee, Boyer said, was put in his office through Bodley's intercession. Boyer twice refused to name the employee or the funds which, he claimed, were being misused.

One More Charge

"Despite his knowledge of this, Mr. Bodley did not see fit to rush to the district attorney or even immediately suggest that his friend take a leave of absence," Boyer said.

Boyer leveled one more charge at Bodley, who listened calmly while the statement was being read. Adolph Andrews, the Democratic candidate for district attorney, said he would file charges against Bodley.

The Bracken Cadets, junior drum and bugle corps sponsored by the Robert W. Bracken Post of the American Legion, Bristol, finished second Saturday by only three tenths of a point in the American Legion junior drum and bugle corps national championship competition at Miami, Fla., and immediately launched a strong protest against the judges' decision.

By noon today no word had been received on the fate of the protest.

Lawrence McCoy and Arthur Straccio, managers of the Cadets, revealed this morning via telephone that their protest was based on the fact that of the 12 judges, four were from northern New Jersey, home of the winning corps, the Garfield, N. J. Cadets.

Former Instructors

Two of those four, McCoy said, were former instructors for the Garfield Cadets.

Meanwhile plans were being made by Bristol borough officials and businessmen for a gigantic welcome home celebration to greet the Cadets when they return from Miami Thursday.

Newspaper Accounts

The Cadets march today with the other 27 competing corps in an eight-hour parade through Miami. They leave Florida for home tomorrow and are expected early Thursday afternoon. Definite plans for the celebration have not been made yet.

Both daily newspapers in Miami greeted the announcement of Garfield as winner with skepticism, McCoy said. The Miami Beach Sun used a question mark to punctuate the headline over the story about the award and the Miami Herald featured pictures of the Bracken Cadets and ignored the Garfield corps in photographs, according to McCoy.

The Cadets marched under a

Warm Again Today—But Cooler Tomorrow

The unseasonably high temperatures enjoyed in Lower Bucks County over the weekend are due to go down somewhat, according to this morning's weather forecast.

The outlook for today features temperatures around 70 degrees turning windy and cooler tonight with a low between 45 and 50. The high tomorrow will be in the 60's.

Average temperatures these early autumn days is about 68 degrees, the weatherman said. That puts the weekend high of about 75 well above normal, he noted, but nowhere near the record of 88 set for yesterday's date in 1897.

The high yesterday was 75 at 3 p.m. the low this morning was 57 at 6 o'clock.

Access Road Barricade Protested By 5,000

More than 5,000 residents and businessmen in Bensalem and Middletown Townships have signed petition protesting what they refer to as a "Chinese Wall" in the proposed limited access highway on Route 1 which the State Highway Department wants to build.

The petitions were circulated by the newly organized Route One Association, which is comprised of some 30 businessmen in the area from City Line to Route 213 in Middletown Township.

The businessmen, who met in executive session Saturday at the Royal Gardens Restaurant, Treves, said they did not object to the proposed Route 1 conversion to a limited access highway.

Could Hurt Business

They said, however, that the proposed barricade between the service road and the planned six-lane highway would cut sharply into their business since motorists using the highway would have to tians and Pennsylvanians from neighboring Bucks County alike were in the huge throng which jammed the shopping plaza area and lined both sides of Route 130 a mile each side of the plaza. And many of them had stood there from 11 a.m.—three hours before the senator arrived.

Water Mains To Be Flushed In Levittown Tomorrow

The Lower Bucks County Joint Municipal Authority will begin its semi-annual flushing out of water mains tomorrow in the main shopping center and six sections of Levittown.

The flushing may cause a slight discoloration of the water, engineers of the authority declared, but it will last for less than an hour.

However, they advised residents to refrain from using the water while the flushing is in progress.

The sections where mains are to be flushed tomorrow, in addition to the shopping center, are Kenwood, Stonybrook, Farmbrook, Greenbrook, Lakeside and Pine-wood.

Those to receive awards for 15 years of service are:

Allan Benton, Leamon Burke, Harvey Fili, James Jackson, Thomas Noonan, Ned Paul, Sally Richards, Andrew Rotz and LeRoy Williams.

Awards for 10 years of service go to Rudolph Angeli, Emily Brosko, Isaac Cheeks, Donald Clark, Chester Czajka, Leonard Davis, Elizabeth DeAngelis, Horace Duttill, Margaret English, Robert Finley, Tillman Gill.

3 Hurt As Car Strikes Pole

Two Lower Bucks County residents were listed in "fair" condition at Mercer Hospital, Trenton, at noon today following an auto accident on Route 1 early this morning.

Kathleen Welty, 13, Big Oak Road, Yardley, is being treated for a possible dislocated hip and Gustave J. Golt Jr., 26, 226 Waltham Road, Fairless Hills is also being treated, although hospital authorities were not sure of the exact extent of his injuries.

Treated and released was Sarah King, 30, Big Oak Road, Yardley. She suffered cuts and bruises, the hospital said.

According to Falls Township police, the car, driven by Golt, was traveling towards Morrisville on Route 1 at about 1:30 a.m. The driver saw a man walking in the lane in which he was driving, swerved to the right to avoid hitting him and smashed into a telephone pole, police stated. Golt and his passengers were taken to the hospital by the Levittown-Fairless Hills Rescue Squad.

boiling hot sun and in a 90-degree temperature. Although several youngsters with other outfits collapsed from the heat, all of the Bracken members came through in good condition, McCoy stated.

McCoy was bitter about the decision.

"We spent $7,000 on this," he said, "and the kids did a tremendous job. They brought the house down."

First Protest

This was the first protest Bracken ever had lodged, he said, although the corps is the oldest junior corps in the country.

"The kids worked all season," McCoy said. "It's a shame it had to close on a questionable decision like this."

McCoy told the Courier-Times this morning that the eight judges who were not from New Jersey scored Bracken highest and Garfield second. The four from New Jersey, however, made enough difference in their scoring, McCoy said, to give the winning trophy and the $500 first prize to Garfield.

Best In Drums

McCoy said that Bracken was adjudged best in drums and general effect. The judge of the bugling, however, placed Garfield above Bracken.

That judge, McCoy declared, was one of the former Garfield instructors.

McCoy said that he does not have much hope his protest will be accepted and the name of the winner changed. However, he said, he does believe the rules for the national championships will be altered for future contests so that no two judges will be from the same state.

Bracken scored 81.3 in the competition and Garfield 81.6. The Audubon, N.J., all-girl corps was third with 78.28.

Levittown Man 'Critical' After Crash

A Levittown man was critically injured and five others, including four children, received bruises in a two-car collision at Woodbourne and Oxford Valley Roads, Middletown Township, yesterday morning.

Joseph B. Kramer, 39, of 36 Upper Orchard Drive, is being treated at Lower Bucks County Hospital for head injuries, possible internal injuries and a broken right leg. His condition is described as critical. According to hospital officials he was in a coma this morning.

Receives Bruises

His car collided with a vehicle driven by Richard E. Terrence, 30, of Philadelphia.

Terrence received bruises in the collision as did four passengers in Kramer's car. They are: Kramer's two children, Denise, seven, Lawrence, 11; Henry Perlman, 11, and his brother, David, seven, of 16 Underwood Road, Levittown.

According to Middletown police, Kramer was charged with going through a stop sign and Terrence was charged with speeding.

Investigates Crash

The accident occurred at 9:05 a.m. yesterday and resulted in total destruction for Kramer's car and $700 damages to Terrence's car, police said.

Investigation of the accident was carried out by Officer Robert B. Roach, Middletown Township Police. He reported there was fog in the area of the collision.

Three Rescue Squads sped to the scene. They were: The Pennell-Middletown Squad; The Levittown-Fairless-Hills Squad; and the Bucks County Squad.

Officials Air Library Tax

Representatives of the Bucks County AFL-CIO Council and the projected Lower Bucks library board met this morning in the Regional Library, Mill Creek and Levittown Parkways, to discuss the library referendum which will be on the ballot in five Lower Bucks municipalities Nov. 8.

The AFL-CIO Council has gone on record as opposing the referendum, which will be voted upon in Langhorne and Tullytown Boroughs and Falls, Middletown and Bristol Townships. It claims that a Lower Bucks library will interfere with a possible county-wide library system and also cause unnecessary duplication of costs and facilities.

Representing the libraries were William P. Joyce and Mrs. Donald McCargar and representing the union, James Gallagher, state representative from Lower Bucks; Jesse Dougherty, Ted Wolfe, George Gordon and Clarence Eaton.

Police Investigating Call On Shooting

Bristol Township police and an ambulance from the Bucks County Rescue Squad rushed to Jonquil Lane in the Junewood section of Levittown at 3:30 a.m. yesterday to investigate a telephone report of a shooting there.

When they arrived, however, they found that the report was a false alarm. The police said today that no one by the name of Miller, the name which they had been given, lived at the address to which they were summoned.

An investigation is continuing.

Teen Party Results In Couple's Arrest

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stover, 24 Graceful Lane, Levittown, were arrested by Bristol Township police Saturday night on charges of disorderly conduct, it was revealed today.

The police said the charges were brought after 18 Levittown and Bristol teenagers were found drinking beer in the Stovers' home. The teenagers, 14 boys and four girls, all were between the ages of 16 and 19 years.

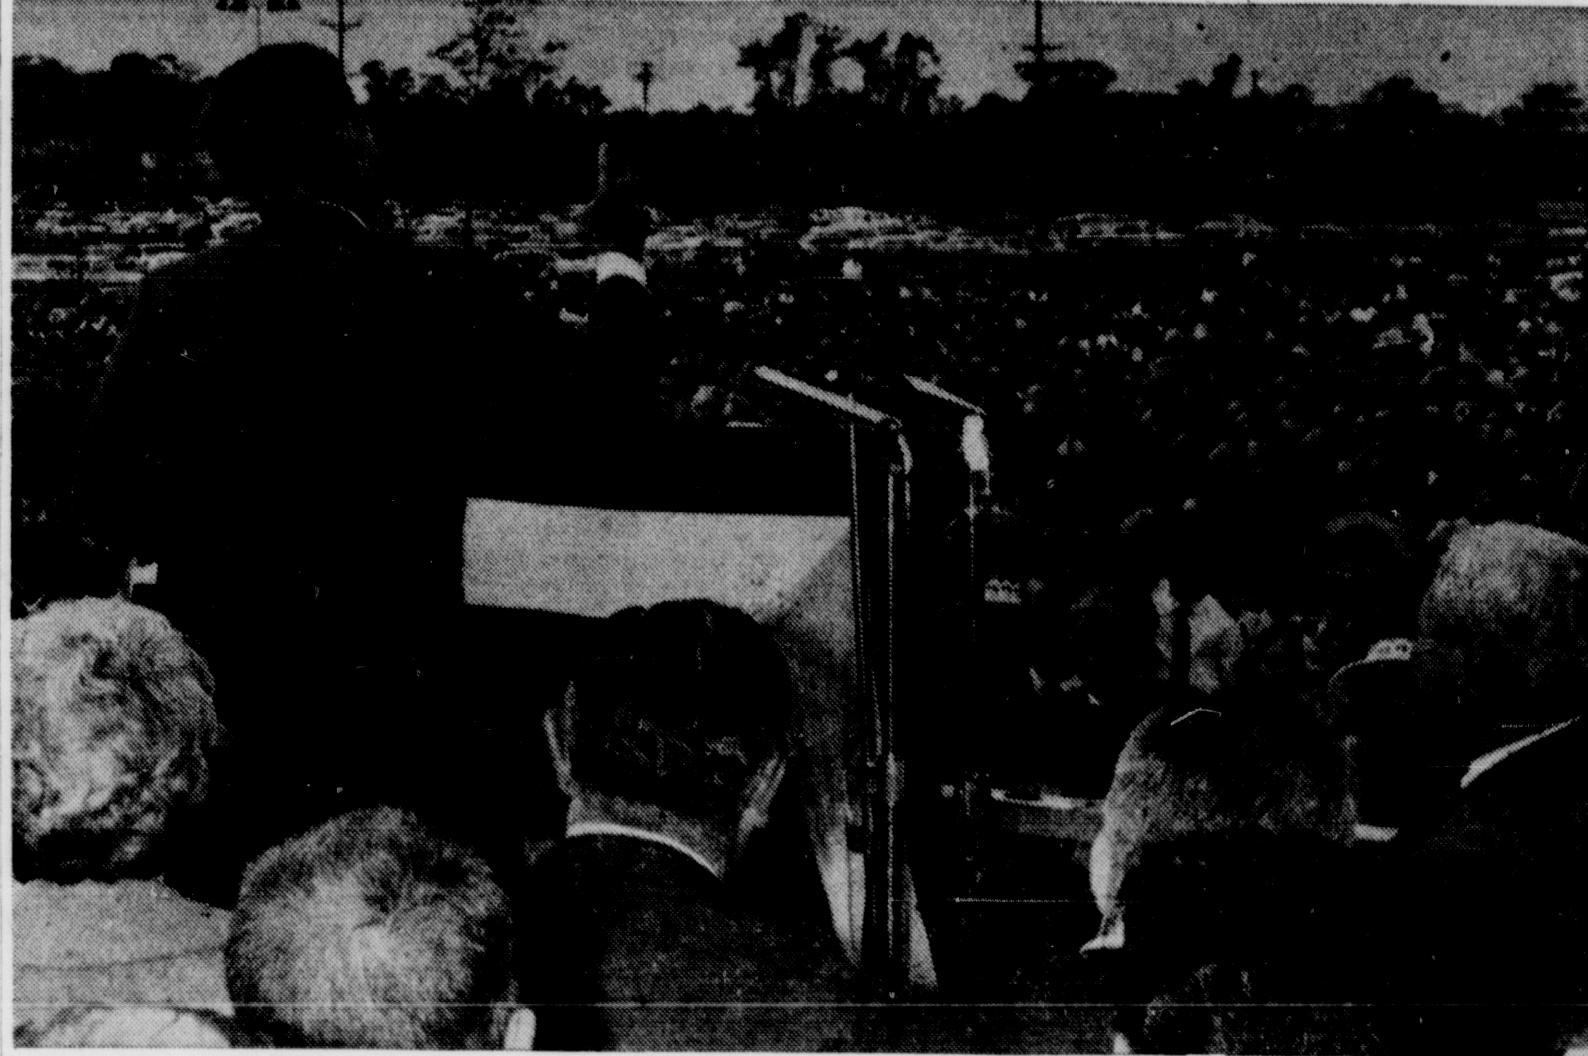

A hearing on the charges will be held tomorrow night before Justice of the Peace Rene Tritschler.

Through With Flying

Although Bobman had owned another plane before, the wrecked plane had just been purchased a week before, Morris Greber, of 827 David Road, also of Trevose, was the co-owner.

Bobman, who has been teaching his wife to fly, told police he was through with flying.

The Bobmans have been living in their ranch-type home for about two years. They have two children, Donna, 7, and Lawrence, 2. The family belongs to Beth Chaim Synagogue on Street Road, Trevose.

Barry Yeager, 15, Eagle Road, Newtown, was admitted to the hospital with a concussion he received while playing in the Pennsbury-Council Rock high school game. His condition is listed as satisfactory.

The businessmen said that the 60-acres of prime business frontage is valued at upwards of $4,000,000.

John A. A. Crowley, public affairs coordinator of the association, said that potential loss of business from the proposed "Chinese Wall" would represent more than $150,000 in local, state and Federal taxes yearly.

The association has retained two attorneys, John Woods of Langhorne and William Heffner of Morrisville, to represent it.

Pastor To Relate

The Rev. W. Melvyn Lewis, pastor of the Mayfair Primitive Methodist Church, Frankford Ave. and Shelmire Sts., Philadelphia, will be the guest speaker this evening at the Monthly Missionary meeting of the Levittown Primitive Methodist Church, Route 413 and Frosty Hollow Road, Pennell.

Smith fell through a ceiling trap door onto the floor below, it was reported.

The gift packages will include vacuum sealed candy, nuts, cookies, chewing gum, toothpaste and tooth brush, soap, writing paper, envelopes, pen, a copy of his hometown paper. The Salvation Army's issue of the War Cry, a greeting card, a copy of the New Testament, and other assorted items.

The only stipulation made by The Salvation Army is that the serviceman is stationed outside the country, and is a resident of Bucks County.

cratic member of the three-man board of commissioners, who also was present, paid no attention to the statement, continuing to sign various bills which required his signature.

In the third charge Boyer said that Bodley "had county insurance transferred to and placed with the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association."

"Either he was already solicitor for the PMA or shortly thereafter was apparently rewarded by being made solicitor," Boyer said.

Quotes Gray

Boyer quotes County Solicitor Samuel S. Gray Jr., on the matter of his being liable to removal from office for taking a leave of absence.

"It is my opinion that the commissioners could not formally grant one of their members a leave of absence with or without pay without his being subject to removal on the basis that a casual vacancy was created," he said Gray had declared.

If a commissioner was not available to vote in case of a tie or to constitute a quorum, he could be removed by the county court, Boyer claimed Gray had said.

Bodley Answers

After Boyer had left the meeting Bodley said that he knew of no situation such as the one involving a county employee and county funds.

"I think he should come out and tell us who he is talking about and what public fund he is talking about," Bodley said.

"I am just disgusted with these tactics," he stated. "What Boyer hopes to gain by it I don't know. There is no question that Boyer is not helping the county, himself or anybody by coming to these meetings."

Educator To Address Boro Men's Group

The meeting will be held tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. in the church's Fellowship Hall, 771 North Pennsylvania Ave.

Dr. Muschell will center his talk on the needs of students and how best to prepare them for their work.

According to Dr. Muschell, this process is complicated by the many demands for studies pursued by the students. Courses of study are being altered and new courses are substituted to cope with the ever changing situation, he has said.

Friends of the Church interested in this meeting are most cordially invited.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. by the ladies of circle 1 and circle 6, chaired by Mrs. Raymond Luck and Mrs. Robert Purdy. Dinner tickets may be procured from Ed Allan or Tony Orzi.

Boro Student Cited For Test Achievement

Richard Clark, Morrisville High School senior, has been honored for outstanding performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test given last spring. E. Leonard Caum, high school principal, has announced.

Clark received a formal letter of commendation signed by Caum and the president of the National Scholarship Corporation.

Commended students constitute less than two per cent of all high school seniors throughout the nation. The letter signifies noteworthy achievement and provides tangible recognition of the student's high ability.

Clark was one of the high school juniors from 15,000 schools who took the spring examination. The test was a three-hour exam covering five separate areas of educational development and was the first step in the sixth annual Merit Program.

Clark lives with his parents at 250 North Lafayette Ave. He is planning to attend Drexel Institute of Technology after his June graduation.

4 Articles To Give Library Tax Facts—Starting Tomorrow

Should you vote for a library tax or should you vote against it?

If you live in Langhorne or Tullytown Boroughs or Falls, Middletown or Bristol Townships, you will find a referendum on the ballot Nov. 8 which, if adopted, will provide a special tax for libraries in those municipalities.

What are the facts behind this referendum?

The Courier-Times has made a lengthy investigation of the situation, and will present all of those facts, both pro and con, in a four-part series of articles beginning tomorrow.

If you want to be well informed on this complex and controversial question, don't miss this series.

Craft Loses Wings

A Trevese couple cheated death Saturday night when their four-passenger, single engine Piper plane crashed near Milton, Mass. while they were enroute from Philadelphia to Boston to visit relatives.

The couple, David Bohman, 29, and his wife Gloria, 25, of 410 Bruce Road, bruised and shaken, remained near their plane in the woods throughout the night and at daybreak made their way to a nearby farmhouse on the Samuel H. Wolcott Jr. estate about six miles from the airport.

Bohman, an executive of Donna Fashions, a women's sweater manufacturing company, immediately telephoned a relative while the farmer, Norman Mollin made coffee for the couple.

Lost in Fog

Bohman said he became lost in the heavy fog just after he had received instruction from Logan Airport in Boston to drop his altitude from 2,500 to 1,800 feet and to prepare to make an instrument landing.

Bohman said the ceiling was at zero when he brushed the tree tops. Both wings were sheared off as the plane descended in the woods.

Bohman said the crash occurred about 9 p.m. and that he and his wife built a fire and listened to the crackling of the plane radio throughout the night.

He said they could hear the airport report their plane missing but could not contact them because of the fog.

Ike To Talk In Detroit

DETROIT (UPI)—President Eisenhower arrived here today to deliver an address on the nation's economic outlook at the outset of a nine-day "non-political" speaking tour.

The President's jet landed at 11 a.m. EDT at Detroit Metropolitan Airport after a one hour and 10 minute flight from Washington.

He was met by L. L. (Tex) Colbert, president of Chrysler Corp. and head of the Automobile Manufacturers Association.

The Chief Executive drove directly to his hotel. His schedule called for him to receive a key to the city and speak before a women's group before his major address tonight at the 43rd National Auto Show.

LCA To Host 'Great Debate' Tomorrow

Leaders of the county Republican and Democratic independent groups and state assembly candidates will hold their own "Great Debate" during tomorrow night's Levittown Civic Association meeting.

Mrs. Ann Hawkes Hutton, noted author of historical books and the Dick Nixon Club of Lower Bucks County representative, and James A. Michener, Pulitzer Prize winning author and Bucks County Citizens for Kennedy chairman, will present their interpretation of national campaign issues and extol the varied virtues of their respective presidential candidates.

State assembly candidates invited to attend the meeting at 8:15 p.m. in the Levittown Community Hall, include: — First District: Alan D. Williams and Mrs. Margarette Kooker, incumbent Republicans; William H. Rufe and Jack Sirott, Democrats; Second District: James J. A. Gallagher, incumbent Democrat and Jack Thomas, Republican.

Questions From Floor

Mrs. Hutton and Michener will answer questions from the floor, following their presentation, a spokesman said. The assembly candidates will then be available for questioning on their views, the spokesman said.

LCA members will also be (Continued on Page 3, Col. 6)

20,000 Turn Out Kennedy Cheered In Levittown, N.J.

LEVITTOWN, N. J.—A crushing crowd of 20,000 persons turned out here yesterday to hear Sen. John F. Kennedy deliver a 15-minute campaign speech in the Levittown Shopping Plaza.

The visit, arranged by Burlington County's Citizens for Kennedy, marked the third time the Democratic presidential candidate has appeared in New Jersey.

Deafening Cheers

The Massachusetts senator arrived by plane at McGuire Air Force Base and drove here in a 21-car motorcade. After his brief appearance in the plaza, Kennedy returned to McGuire where he boarded his twin-engine Convair, "Carolyn," for an airport speech at New Castle, Del.

Ninety minutes late for his scheduled 12:30 arrival in Levittown, Sen. Kennedy was greeted by long, deafening cheers when he stepped up on the speaker's platform at 2 p.m.

His speech, delivered without referring to notes, was a capsule review of campaign speeches he had given in previous tours. The only new addition was his challenge to Republican presidential hopeful Richard M. Nixon to turn his attention to issues other than the Chinese offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

Van Doren, Elfrida Arrested TV Quiz Winners Held For Perjury

NEW YORK (UPI) — Three of the big money winners on television quiz shows were arrested today on perjury charges stemming from a grand jury investigation of quiz show fixing.

Charles Van Doren, Hank Bloomgarden and Elfrida Von Nardoff surrendered to the district attorney's office on the second degree perjury charges.

The grand jury had named more than 20 in connection with its investigation of quiz show rigging, but it was reported that names of those involved would not be released until arrested.

Van Doren, who won $129,000 on the new defunct NBC quiz program "Twenty-One," had admitted he lied to the grand jury in saying he had not received help in answering questions.

He later recanted his testimony and made a public confession in Washington before a congressional committee. In consequence, he lost his $50,000-a-year job at NBC and his teaching post at Columbia University.

Miss Von Nardoff won $220,500 and Bloomgarden won $98,000, also on "Twenty-One." They had testified to the grand jury that they did not receive answers to the questions on the show.

The district attorney's office said all the quiz contestants named in the grand jury information were either on "Twenty-One" or "Tic-Tac Dough."

All three of the former contestants refused to comment when they arrived at the district attorney's office today.

Boyer Levels More Charges At Bodley

County Commissioner Edward B. Boyer, who has been asked to take a leave of absence from his post while he is facing charges of extortion and bribery, declared today that he could not do so legally without facing the possibility of being removed from office by the courts.

Boyer, in a three-page mimeographed statement which he read at the conclusion of a commissioners' meeting in Doylestown, also leveled new charges at Commissioner John Justus Bodley, who was instrumental in instigating the investigation that resulted in the charges against Boyer and Charles B. Meyers, a suspended U. S. deputy marshal.

Both Republicans

Both Boyer and Bodley are Republicans. Boyer said today in his statement that Bodley knew such a request for a leave of absence would result in his (Boyer) being removed.

He also said that Bodley knows of the "indiscretions" of a county employee who has allegedly been "misusing public funds to his own enrichment."

This employee, Boyer said, was put in his office through Bodley's intercession. Boyer twice refused to name the employee or the funds which, he claimed, were being misused.

One More Charge

"Despite his knowledge of this, Mr. Bodley did not see fit to rush to the district attorney or even immediately suggest that his friend take a leave of absence," Boyer said.

Boyer leveled one more charge at Bodley, who listened calmly while the statement was being read. Adolph Andrews, the Democrat, said (Continued on Page 3, Col. 8)

The Bracken Cadets, junior drum and bugle corps sponsored by the Robert W. Bracken Post of the American Legion, Bristol, finished second Saturday by only three tenths of a point in the American Legion junior drum and bugle corps national championship competition at Miami, Fla., and immediately launched a strong protest against the judges' decision.

By noon today no word had been received on the fate of the protest.

Lawrence McCoy and Arthur Straccio, managers of the Cadets, revealed this morning via telephone that their protest was based on the fact that of the 12 judges, four were from northern New Jersey, home of the winning corps, the Garfield, N. J. Cadets.

Former Instructors
Two of those four, McCoy said, were former instructors for the Garfield Cadets.

Meanwhile plans were being made by Bristol borough officials and businessmen for a gigantic welcome home celebration to greet the Cadets when they return from Miami Thursday.

Newspaper Accounts

The Cadets march today with the other 27 competing corps in an eight-hour parade through Miami. They leave Florida for home tomorrow and are expected early Thursday afternoon. Definite plans for the celebration have not been made yet.

Both daily newspapers in Miami greeted the announcement of Garfield as winner with skepticism, McCoy said. The Miami Beach Sun used a question mark to punctuate the headline over the story about the award and the Miami Herald featured pictures of the Bracken Cadets and ignored the Garfield corps in photographs, according to McCoy.

Warm Again Today—But Cooler Tomorrow

The unseasonably high temperatures enjoyed in Lower Bucks County over the weekend are due to go down somewhat, according to this morning's weather forecast.

The outlook for today features temperatures around 70 degrees turning windy and cooler tonight with a low between 45 and 50. The high tomorrow will be in the 60's.

Average temperatures these early autumn days is about 68 degrees, the weatherman said. That puts the weekend high of about 75 well above normal, he noted, but nowhere near the record of 88 set for yesterday's date in 1897.

The high yesterday was 75 at 3 p.m. the low this morning was 57 at 6 o'clock.

Wants Moratorium On Rash Statements

WITH NIXON IN CONNECTICUT (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon, rejecting Sen. John F. Kennedy's proposal to drop campaign discussion of the Quemoy-Matsu issue, demanded instead today a "moratorium on rash, immature statements that are going to encourage the Communists to attack us any place in the world."

Good Evening!

Campaign races in the stretch.

Something's got to give. Three weeks from tomorrow it'll be giving.

Senator Kennedy speaks to some 20,000 in Levittown, N. J., yesterday during a day of blitzing all over the country and he's due here October 29.

Meantime Vice President Nixon comes to Bucks and to Levittown, Pa., next Saturday and we suspect he, too, will get quite a welcome.

And we see where President Eisenhower's off on a 6,700-mile tour of pivotal states today, with his first speech scheduled for Detroit tonight.

What with everybody prancing around the hinterlands, who's staying home and keeping the store, anyhow?

Autumn foliage nearly perfect during the weekend; it'll be just as pretty a week hence.

And autumn leaves lovely if they're only stuck to the trees. It's a losing battle—you keep raking, they keep falling.

Okay, opening concert of the Delaware Valley Philharmonic Orchestra next Sunday at the Woodrow Wilson High School and you'd better start planning to attend.

How about the season tickets? Now's the time to get 'em.

And the Lower Bucks United Fund campaign reaches the $215,312 mark and still going strong.

Are you making sure you're giving your fair share?

An employer interviewing an applicant remarked: "You ask high wages for a man with no experience."

Applicant: "Well, it's much harder to work when you don't know anything about it."

Another cause of high blood pressure is watching a man being liberal with the money he owes you.

The average doctor is said to know about 25,000 words. Yet he rarely says anything but "stick out your tongue."

Watch your driving.

It Only Takes A Post Card

Nixon Or Kennedy? You Can Pick 'Em In Our Straw Vote

Nixon or Kennedy? Republican or Democratic? How will you vote? Which one do your neighbors prefer?

We won't know definitely until Nov. 8. However, in an effort to get an indication of the presidential vote in Lower Bucks, the Courier-Times is conducting a straw ballot.

The ballot appears alongside. It will be published every day this week.

Cut it out, mark your choice and the municipality in which you live, paste it on the back of a post card and mail it to the Courier-Times, Route 13, Levittown, Penna.

We will keep you posted on the day-by-day returns of this straw vote and on the vote in each of the Lower Bucks municipalities.

So be sure to mail in your ballot as soon as possible —and to keep the count accurate, please vote only once.

Las Vegas Odds Makers Now Favor Kennedy

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—The odds makers in this desert gambling spa now are favoring Sen. John F. Kennedy in the presidential race.

Republican candidate Vice President Richard M. Nixon was favored 5-3 as late as a week ago, but Sunday most odds makers switched to back Kennedy 5-7.

tians and Pennsylvanians from neighboring Bucks County alike were in the huge throng which jammed the shopping plaza area and lined both sides of Route 130 a mile each side of the plaza. And many of them had stood there from 11 a.m.—three hours before the senator arrived.

In Ohio today Sen. John F. Kennedy said today that former President Hoover tried to do something when the country faced difficulties but that Vice President Richard M. Nixon said he is "satisfied" with things as they are today.

Water Mains To Be Flushed In Levittown Tomorrow

The Lower Bucks County Joint Municipal Authority will begin its semi-annual flushing out of water mains tomorrow in the main shopping center and six sections of Levittown.

The flushing may cause a slight discoloration of the water, engineers of the authority declared, but it will last for less than an hour.

However, they advised residents to refrain from using the water while the flushing is in progress.

The sections where mains are to be flushed tomorrow, in addition to the shopping center, are Kenwood, Stonybrook, Farmbrook, Greenbrook, Lakeside and Pine-wood.

3 Hurt As Car Strikes Pole

Two Lower Bucks County residents were listed in "fair" condition at Mercer Hospital, Trenton, at noon today following an auto accident on Route 1 early this morning.

Kathleen Welty, 13, Big Oak Road, Yardley, is being treated for a possible dislocated hip and Gustave J. Golt Jr., 26, 226 Waltham Road, Fairless Hills is also being treated, although hospital authorities were not sure of the exact extent of his injuries.

Treated and released was Sarah King, 30, Big Oak Road, Yardley. She suffered cuts and bruises, the hospital said.

According to Falls Township police, the car, driven by Golt, was traveling towards Morrisville on Route 1 at about 1:30 a.m. The driver saw a man walking in the lane in which he was driving, swerved to the right to avoid hitting him and smashed into a telephone pole, police stated. Golt and his passengers were taken to the hospital by the Levittown-Fairless Hills Rescue Squad.

boiling hot sun and in a 90-degree temperature. Although several youngsters with other outfits collapsed from the heat, all of the Bracken members came through in good condition, McCoy stated. McCoy was bitter about the decision.

"We spent $7,000 on this," he said, "and the kids did a tremendous job. They brought the house down."

First Protest

This was the first protest Bracken ever had lodged, he said, although the corps is the oldest junior corps in the country.

"The kids worked all season," McCoy said. "It's a shame it had to close on a questionable decision like this."

McCoy told the Courier-Times this morning that the eight judges who were not from New Jersey scored Bracken highest and Garfield second. The four from New Jersey, however, made enough difference in their scoring, McCoy said, to give the winning trophy and the $500 first prize to Garfield.

Best In Drums

McCoy said that Bracken was adjudged best in drums and general effect. The judge of the bugling, however, placed Garfield above Bracken.

That judge, McCoy declared, was one of the former Garfield instructors. McCoy said that he does not have much hope his protest will be accepted and the name of the winner changed. However, he said, he does believe the rules for the national championships will be altered for future contests so that no two judges will be from the same state.

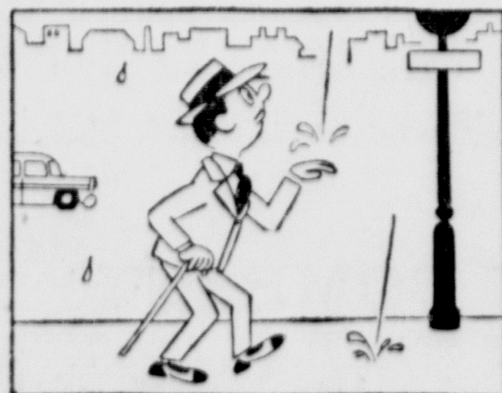

Bracken scored 81.3 in the competition and Garfield 81.6. The Audubon, N.J., all-girl corps was third with 78.28.

cratic member of the three-man board of commissioners, who also was present, paid no attention to the statement, continuing to sign various bills which required his signature.

In the third charge Boyer said that Bodley "had county insurance transferred to and placed with the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association."

"Either he was already solicitor for the PMA or shortly thereafter was apparently rewarded by being made solicitor," Boyer said.

Quotes Gray

Boyer quotes County Solicitor Samuel S. Gray Jr., on the matter of his being liable to removal from office for taking a leave of absence.

"It is my opinion that the commissioners could not formally grant one of their members a leave of absence with or without pay without his being subject to removal on the basis that a casual vacancy was created," he said Gray had declared.

If a commissioner was not available to vote in case of a tie or to constitute a quorum, he could be removed by the county court, Boyer claimed Gray had said.

Bodley Answers

After Boyer had left the meeting Bodley said that he knew of no situation such as the one involving a county employee and county funds.

"I think he should come out and tell us who he is talking about and what public fund he is talking about," Bodley said.

"I am just disgusted with these tactics," he stated. "What Boyer hopes to gain by it I don't know. There is no question that Boyer is not helping the county, himself or anybody by coming to these meetings."
